TRANSACTIONS FOR HOPE

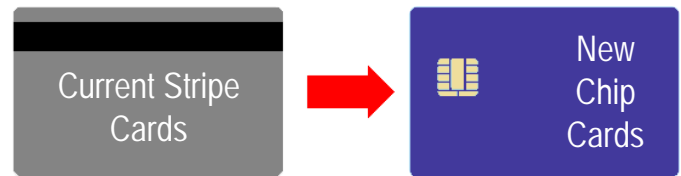

BUILDING HOPE, ONE TRANSACTION AT A TIME!

ARE YOU READY FOR THE MANDATORY SWITCH TO CHIP CARDS

The United States has switched to Chip Cards!

The new standard is called EMV, which have embedded microchips. They are more secure than traditional credit cards, and change how you take payments from your customers.

Why the changeover?

Here's the facts --- Almost half of the entire world's credit card fraud now happens in the United States. The banks want to stop this by moving away from magnetic stripe cards, which are much easier to counterfeit. The recent Target and Neiman Marcus security breaches also added motivation to finally make this change. Canada and Europe recently went through this same transition to chip cards a few years ago.

As of 2016, businesses that don't have an EMV-supported processing device will be on the hook for fraudulent chip card transactions. Currently, if you run a fraudulent card, the bank absorbs the costs. But starting in 2016, if someone pays with a fraudulent chip card and you're not set up with an EMV card reader, banks will no longer be liable --- YOU (THE MERCHANT) ARE LIABLE.

So how exactly will this affect your business?

For starters, you'll need a new processing device to read the information in the chip cards. This can get expensive --- and the credit card processing companies know this to be a real revenue-generating cash-cow opportunity for them. Because of this many will soon be contacting you in the hopes of selling you a replacement EMV-supported terminal.

Is there simple affordable solution? YES, receive a free terminal.

Simply switch your Merchant Services to Transactions For Hope and we will set you up with a choice of new EMV-supportable terminals --- LITERALLY FOR FREE!

And not just this initial terminal, but also any future terminal upgrades and replacements will be at absolutely no expense to you. NEVER BUY A PROCESSING TERMINAL AGAIN!!!
